WOW!!â?¦Itâ??s not every day a property of this quality and type comes onto the market for sale. Properties offering fully approved dual accommodation are few and far between, and it is even more rare to find something as well established, and offering as many rural pursuits as this one. The improvements on this one are first class, with the property ideally suited to the buyer looking to utilise the various stables, shedding and paddocks already set up, however it also appeals to those just looking for a lifestyle change and a bit of space around them.
